

100WHF Hong Kong Gala

Investment leaders gather to raise money for young people

The inaugural Hong Kong gala held by 100 Women in Hedge Funds (100WHF), a non-profit organisation for professionals in the alternative investments industry, successfully raised $HKD 2.8 million in gross proceeds through the Gala and other fundraising, in support of The Hong Kong Award for Young People.

The Gala was held at the Hong Kong Maritime Museum, and was attended by more than 200 leaders from across the alternative investment industry in Asia. HRH The Countess of Wessex was the guest of honour at the Gala event, in her newly appointed role as global ambassador of The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award.

The Hong Kong Award for Young People (AYP) is a Hong Kong-based charitable organisation which operates The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award. The Award is a youth development programme which combines practical experience and life skills to equip young people for life. AYP was established in Hong Kong in 1961 and, to date, more than 56,000 local young people have participated in the Award Scheme in over 600 youth organisations, secondary schools, tertiary institutes, uniformed groups and government departments.

During the evening, HRH The Countess of Wessex presented Hannah Goodwin, recently retired from Citigroup, with the 100WHF Asian Industry Leadership Award, for her outstanding contributions to the industry over 20 years in Hong Kong. THFJ

1. HRH Countess of Wessex addresses guests
2. Rock Chen, Chairman of The Hong Kong Award for Young People, receives a cheque for HKD $2.8million
3. HRH Countess of Wessex with Blackstone Group guests
4. Hannah Goodwin receives the 100WHF Asian Industry Leadership Award
5. Ann Ng, Silke Marsh and Tamara Kirshbaum with Amanda Pullinger, Director of 100WHF
6. Carol Kim, Co-Founder of 100WHF and Managing Director, Investor Relations, Blackstone Group speaks to guests
7. 100WHF 2013 Hong Kong Gala Committee

